GUIDE FOR THE EMERGENCY INTER-STATE SECURITY SUMMIT (EISS)
DISTRIBUTION: EISS PLENARY DELEGATES (AUTHORIZED EYES ONLY)

I. INTRODUCTION: THE COMPROMISE

This summit was not convened; it was activated. The Emergency Inter-State Security Summit (EISS) was established as the global system of last resort, a clandestine mechanism to be triggered only when conventional diplomacy, finance, and warfare had failed.

That moment has arrived.

Ten days ago, the IMF (Impossible Mission Force), the most secure, secretive, and powerful organization on Earth, was compromised. An entity known only as CIPHER, a rogue element from within their command structure, has infiltrated the IMF's central nervous system. This breach is not theoretical. It is active, hostile, and has already begun.

CIPHER has initiated "Project Chimera," an operation of systemic destabilization. The first shot has been fired: a single, classified IMF intelligence dossier, "Operation Iron Harvest," has been leaked to the global public. This document confirms a devastating, long-term act of economic warfare between two major powers present in this room.

The leak has done more than expose a state secret; it has exposed the EISS itself. The existence of this body, your names, and the protocols we operate under are now the subject of intense global speculation. The world's financial markets are in freefall, military commands are on high alert, and the media is scrambling to understand what "EISS" is.

You, the delegates, are now in the most vulnerable position imaginable. You are the organization's highest authority. You are cut off. The Citadel is in lock-down. You have no external support. The protocols of deniability are in full effect; your governments will disavow all knowledge of this summit and your actions here.

Your mission is twofold:

1. MANAGE THE CRISIS: You must stop the diplomatic and economic hemorrhage caused by "Operation Iron Harvest." You must prevent a global war.
2. HUNT THE TRAITOR: You must identify and neutralize CIPHER, who is operating from a position of total privilege.

This is not a debate. It is a counter-intelligence operation. Welcome to the EISS.

II. THE EISS: MANDATE & STRUCTURE

To understand the scale of this betrayal, you must first understand what the EISS truly is. It is not a committee. It is not a forum. It is the single most powerful, deniable geopolitical weapon ever created.

A. Origins: The Failure of the Old World

The EISS was secretly formed by a quorum of founding nations in the shadow of the 2016 global financial hacks. It was a moment of horrifying clarity when it was proven that a non-attributable cyber-attack, costing less than a single fighter jet, could collapse a G7 nation's economy in under 48 hours. The traditional institutions the UN Security Council, the G20, the IMF were exposed as slow, bureaucratic, and utterly powerless against this new breed of warfare.

The EISS was built to be the antidote. It is a sovereign entity, unbound by traditional treaties, designed to move at the speed of algorithms and capital.

B. The EISS Mandate: The "Economic" Missions Force

The EISS's sole purpose is to identify and neutralize Acts of Systemic Economic Aggression (ASEA) coordinated, hostile actions that use financial markets, critical infrastructure, and digital espionage as weapons of war.

The delegates of this summit are not mere ambassadors. You are the Plenary Directorate. You are principals, National Security Advisors, Governors of Central Banks, Directors of Intelligence. You do not just "speak"; you act. The EISS Charter grants this body the authority to execute binding, covert operations to protect global stability.

These operations are carried out by the EISS Tactical Teams (ETTs).

- Who They Are: The ETTs are the EISS's deniable, non-state assets. They are the "ghosts" who execute the Directorate's will. An ETT is not an army; it is a scalpel. It might be a two-person team of forensic accountants sent to halt a currency collapse, a cell of hackers deployed to neutralize a rogue AI, or a single operative tasked with extracting a high-value target.
- The M:I Protocol: When this Directorate authorizes an ETT mission, it is done with full knowledge of the Disavowal Protocol. If an ETT is captured or exposed, the EISS and all its member nations will deny their existence. They are, in every sense of the word, on an impossible mission.

C. The Citadel & The CipherNet Protocol

This summit is taking place in the EISS Citadel, a secure, subterranean facility whose location is known only to those present. The Citadel is a technological fortress, operating on a completely isolated, proprietary network: The CipherNet Protocol.

- Air-Gapped Security: CipherNet is physically disconnected from the global internet. No data can enter or leave through a wireless signal.
- The Single Point of Entry: All data, intelligence briefs, delegate proposals, and final directives, is fed into CipherNet through a single, biometrically sealed, hard-line port. This port is controlled exclusively by the Presiding Officers' Station.
- The Implication of the Breach: The leak of "Operation Iron Harvest" was not a hack in the traditional sense. It was a betrayal of physical and procedural trust. CIPHER did not break through the firewall from the outside; they used the system's own hardware to broadcast a classified file to the world.

III. Core Entities & Terms

- EISS (Emergency Inter-State Security Summit): The primary organization. A clandestine, sovereign body with the power to investigate and neutralize systemic economic threats, acting as a "Council of Last Resort."
- Plenary Directorate: Your official title as a delegate. This body is the EISS's highest authority, with the power to authorize sanctions and covert operations.
- ASEA (Acts of Systemic Economic Aggression): The core concept of the summit. These are coordinated, hostile actions (like cyber-attacks or market manipulation) that use economic tools as weapons of war.
- CIPHER: The codename for the rogue agent who has compromised the EISS from within. Believed to be "The First Analyst."
- Project Chimera: The codename for CIPHER's overall operation of systemic destabilization.
- The First Analyst: The legendary, anonymous architect of the CipherNet Protocol, now believed to be the true identity of CIPHER.
- The Citadel: The codename for the secure, subterranean facility where the summit is being held.
- CipherNet Protocol: The EISS's proprietary, air-gapped, and isolated network, designed to be physically disconnected from the global internet.
- Disavowal Protocol: The "Mission: Impossible" rule. If an EISS operation or agent is exposed, the EISS and all its member nations will deny their existence.
- EISS Tactical Teams (ETTs): The deniable, non-state "ghost" operatives who carry out the Directorate's covert missions.
- Red Diamond: The EISS's highest security classification, reserved for active, systemic threats (like "Operation Iron Harvest").
- Crisis Mandate 7-Delta: The current emergency operational status of the EISS following the leak.
- Operation Iron Harvest: The codename for the leaked intelligence dossier detailing a Russian economic attack on Germany.
- 'Rust-Fungus': The codename for the Russian FSB malware used to subtly disrupt German shipping logistics.

IV. PROJECT CHIMERA: THE NATURE OF THE THREAT

The EISS has designated this internal conspiracy as Project Chimera. It is a hybrid threat, combining advanced digital warfare with a deep-seated psychological attack on the trust that holds this council together.

A. The Profile of "CIPHER"

EISS counter-intelligence has constructed a preliminary profile of the entity known as CIPHER.

- Identity: Believed to be a single individual: The First Analyst. This legendary, anonymous figure was the chief architect of the CipherNet Protocol itself. They were rumored to have retired years ago, but it is now clear they built a "ghost key" into the system, a procedural backdoor that only they know how to exploit.
- Motive (Assumed): CIPHER is not a mercenary. They are a zealot. They are driven by a fanatical, twisted belief in the EISS's original mandate. CIPHER believes that the delegates in this room have become corrupt, that you are now the ones using the tools of economic warfare against each other, in violation of the very treaty you are here to sign.
- Goal: CIPHER's goal is not money or power. It is Forced Transparency. By leaking genuine, damning evidence of your own internal betrayals, CIPHER intends to prove their hypothesis: that the EISS is a failed state, and that the only solution is to burn it, and the global order it protects, to the ground.

B. The Breach: A Psychological Attack

The leak is not just an intelligence failure; it is a calculated act of psychological warfare against this room. CIPHER knows the EISS protocols. They know that by locking down the Citadel, they have trapped you.

You are sealed in a room with a time bomb, and you are the only ones who can defuse it. CIPHER is counting on your training in espionage and betrayal to cause you to tear each other apart before you find the real threat.

V. THE IMMEDIATE CRISIS: ANALYSIS OF LEAK 1 (OPERATION IRON HARVEST)

This is the only piece of hard evidence the council possesses. It is the conflict you must solve while simultaneously hunting the agent who revealed it.

A. Document Summary

- Document ID: IMF-EUR-L-3310-A
- Classification: RED DIAMOND (EISS's highest classification, for active, systemic threats)
- Subject: Russian FSB Covert Economic Destabilization of German Trade Infrastructure

B. The Mechanics of the Attack: "Rust-Fungus"

The dossier confirms that the Russian Federation has been actively engaged in an 18-month-long Act of Systemic Economic Aggression (ASEA) against the Federal Republic of Germany.

The attack was not a blunt, destructive crash. It was subtle, patient, and brilliant.

- The Weapon: The FSB deployed a specialized "logic-bomb" malware codenamed 'Rust-Fungus.' This malware was not aimed at Germany's government but at its reputation. It was injected into the supply-chain and logistics software of third-party port authorities and freight forwarders that handle German high-value exports (e.g., automotive parts, pharmaceuticals, high-tech machinery).
- The Method: 'Rust-Fungus' did not steal money or data. It introduced microscopic, random errors into shipping manifests, customs declarations, and container weight calculations. A shipping code might be transposed, a tariff classification slightly mislabeled. These errors were too small to trigger cyber-security alarms but just large enough to cause massive, real-world friction.
- The Result: German exports were systematically entangled in customs delays, inspection holds, and "lost" shipments for 18 months. The dossier estimates the direct cost at €3.5 billion in contract penalties and fines. The indirect cost, the catastrophic loss of Germany's global brand of "reliability" and "efficiency", is incalculable.

C. The Strategic Implications

This leak is a masterstroke by CIPHER. It achieves three goals simultaneously:

1. It Paralyzes the European Bloc: It drives a stake through the heart of European stability. Germany, the EU's economic engine, is now a confirmed victim. Russia, a primary energy supplier, is a confirmed aggressor. The immediate diplomatic fallout will be severe, making any collective action on other matters impossible.
2. It Exposes the "Gray Zone": The attack is a perfect example of an ASEA, an act of war with no bullets fired. It proves the EISS's mandate is vital, yet it simultaneously proves the EISS's members are the worst offenders.
3. It Validates CIPHER's Motive: CIPHER's first leak confirms their thesis: the powers in this room are already at war.

VI. MANDATE OF THE SUMMIT: YOUR OBJECTIVES

Your original agenda is obsolete. The EISS Directorate is now operating under Crisis Mandate 7-Delta. Your primary objectives are, in order:

1. CRISIS MANAGEMENT (RUSSIA-GERMANY)

You must immediately address the "Iron Harvest" leak. The world is watching.

- Topic A: Attribution and Accountability. The evidence is absolute. The council must formally censure the Russian Federation. What does this censure look like? Sanctions? The expulsion of the Russian delegate? Or is a pardon offered in exchange for the "Rust-Fungus" kill-switch?
- Topic B: Economic Stabilization. Germany's economy, and by extension, the EU's, is now vulnerable. The council must draft an emergency financial package to restore confidence in German logistics and prevent a market collapse when trading opens.

2. COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE (THE HUNT FOR CIPHER)

This is the shadow mission. You cannot trust the system, the hardware, or potentially the delegate sitting next to you.

- Internal Security Protocol. The council must establish a new, temporary protocol for sharing information. How will you verify documents? Who will you trust? You must assume CIPHER is listening to every word spoken in this chamber.
- The Investigation. You must begin to analyze the "Iron Harvest" leak not for its content, but for its origin. The reference to the "Protocol Validation Agent" is your first and only lead. You must determine what, or who, this agent is.

Delegates, the isolation is total. The stakes are absolute. The mission has begun.
